What you'll make

Recreate the Make an Object Appear effect entirely on your phone. Film a couple of simple shots, then build the illusion in CapCut using the steps below.

The finished effect (still from the demo)

Part 1 — Filming

- 1 Welcome to your first visual effect.
- 2 Wanna start you off with something simple but effective.
- 3 We're gonna make an object appear just by snapping our fingers.
- 4 For this we're gonna need two shots.
- 5 The first shot we're gonna snap our fingers, pick up the cup and take a drink and then the second shot we're gonna get with the cup removed from the scene that will create our clean plate.
- 6 Let's go ahead and do our focus lock and hit record.
- 7 Shot one then our second shot, we just want our clean plate no cup in the scene.
- 8 One thing to know is that when you have natural lighting coming into the window, this can be problematic if we have the sun shifting or clouds moving during the day and you wanna make sure to get your shots just back to back.
- 9 Basically not giving the sun enough time to shift and change the lighting in the scene.

Part 2 — Editing in CapCut

- 1 Once we have our footage imported I'm gonna trim it down to just the section that I need.
- 2 Tap split, delete everything on the left side, pick up the cup, drink, set it down.
- 3 I'll split it again and then I'll come to a section where the cup is not on the counter.
- 4 Split and delete that middle section.
- 5 We're gonna use this part as our patch to cover up the cup, so I'll go ahead and split it here and delete everything on the right side so I have my two clips of my action clip and my clean plate of the countertop.
